KEY BENEFITS

→ Does very well on tough soils

→ Remarkable drought and heat tolerance

HYBRID OVERVIEW

25D19G is right at home in the Deep South. It is a workhorse variety that performs very well in tough years. It can wait it out for a rain and still produce tremendously girthy ears. It's plant architecture is tall and very wide leafed. In spite of its large plant size, 25D19G really only tons well relative to our other hybrids in silage production when in an extremely stressful environment.
